DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bozso et al. (US 5,760,478).

Bozso shows in Fig. 6, a stacked semiconductor device, comprising a plurality of semiconductor elements (Primary substrate and Secondary substrate) mounted in the device in the stacked form, each of the semiconductor elements having a quadrangular surface; and a plurality of electrodes 600 provided on each of the quadrangular surfaces of the semiconductor elements, wherein the electrode pads provided on each of the quadrangular surfaces are intensively arranged near two sides adjacent to each other, of the quadrangular surface, where the semiconductor elements, which are adjacent to each other in a direction that the semiconductor elements are stacked, are arranged so as to be shifted in a direction parallel with the quadrangular surfaces in such manner that the electrode pads provided on each of the semiconductor elements adjacent to each other do not overlap with the other semiconductor element when viewed from a direction orthogonal to the quadrangular surfaces.

Concerning claims 2-4, Bozso's Fig. 6 meets the limitations as set forth in these claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the reference as applied to claims 1-3 above, and further in view of Masuda et al. (US 6,552,437 B1).

As per the above discussion, the applied reference teaches that the semiconductor elements are directly joined each other by electrodes, but not by means of an adhesive. Masuda teach joining between two semiconductor chips 4 and 5 by means of an adhesive 7 (see column 18, line 47). Hence, it would have been obvious for a person of ordinary skill in the pertinent art to directly join the semiconductor elements by means of an adhesive for the reasons as taught by Masuda et al.
